

Bakery Truck Used To Convey Corpse To Rhode Island

Health Officer Sanford Makes Report of Incident to Health Board—Municipal Garbage Incinerating Plant Talked Of and Matter Referred to Public Works Board.

How Morris Miller, the baker of 100 Broadway used a truck to transport a corpse to Rhode Island, was related to the board of health at the regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening by Dr. L. E. Sanford, city health officer. Dr. Sanford informed the board that there was nothing in the state law prohibiting the carrying of a dead body in a bakery truck, and the only question that could be raised was one of sanitation and he had ordered Miller to thoroughly clean and disinfect the bakery truck. The board also discussed the need of a municipal garbage incinerator plant, and the matter was referred to the board of public works.

In relation to the bakery truck incident, Dr. Sanford submitted the following report, which was ordered filed: "On July 9, 1933, Philip Jago, died at the Kingston Hospital, the cause of death being general peritonitis, ruptured appendix, an operation had been performed. The death certificate and burial permit was issued by Miss Schwab to James Halloran and the body taken from the hospital to his undertaking parlors.

Later in the afternoon of July 9, the body was wrapped in waxed paper and placed in an undertaker's basket and removed from the undertaker's parlors and placed in a bakery truck owned by Morris Miller and conveyed to Providence, Rhode Island. The truck was driven by Hugh O'Neill, accompanied by Morris Miller.

On Tuesday, July 11, Hugh O'Neill told Mr. Reels, sanitary inspector, of this fact stating that the body of Philip Jago had been conveyed in International Truck No. 9 which was used by Mr. Miller to deliver baked goods. Mr. O'Neill also stated that the truck was contaminated by material coming from the body and through the basket.

Mr. Reels at once investigated this complaint, taking it up with Morris Miller. Inspection of the floor of the truck failed to reveal any evidence of contamination but Mr. Miller was ordered to clean and disinfect the truck at once. Mr. Miller denied that he used truck No. 9 in conveying the body but stated that he used a truck which at that time was in Dr. Low's garage and which had never been used to convey baked goods. However, Hugh O'Neill, who drove the truck, and Pat Hogan, who saw the body placed in the truck, made positive statements that International truck No. 9 was used. Mr. Halloran and Dr. Low have made no definite statement concerning the matter.

I have talked with Mr. Miller twice about this telling him that his truck must be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected whether he used it or not in conveying the body.

There is no law in the state sanitary code preventing the conveyance of a body in this manner provided it is accompanied by the death certificate and burial permit.

The only question which can be raised is one of sanitation, as to whether the truck was contaminated by material coming from the body. No direct evidence to this fact was obtained. If so, the truck would have to be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected which was ordered done.

Dr. Sanford said that the incident had created a lot of talk about town early in July.

Garbage Incinerating Plant. Acting Mayor Heiselman some time ago took up with the state health department the question of a municipal incinerating plant for Kingston, and a reply to his communication was read at the meeting in which it was stated that it would now be possible to receive federal aid in the construction of such a plant. It was stated the federal government would defray 30 per cent of the cost.

Dr. Colcomb thought it would be a worth while project as it would not only remove the garbage from the city which it long had needed. He said the city had spent thousands of dollars in work relief and had but very little to show for it.

Mayor Heiselman said that the city government had expended over $400,000 raised by bond issues in work relief. Mayor Heiselman said he would not like to go ahead with the project until he had found out the sentiments of the city administration. He said he did not know just when Mayor Carey would resume his duties.

After some further discussion the matter was referred to the board of public works for further consideration.

Machado Studies Suggestion That He Quit Political Scene

Havana, Aug. 9 (P).—President Machado considered mediators' proposals today that he leave a political scene of bloodshed, strikes and passive revolution, while his followers raised a cry of nationalism and independence.

"I am and I continue being president of Cuba in the plenitude of all my constitutional prerogatives," said Machado in a reply to a formula presented to him by United States Ambassador Sumner Welles, acting for a commission seeking to settle political differences.

But Mr. Welles said mediation was not ended, even though the president was reported as having told his Liberal Party leaders that he would not ask congress for a leave of absence, deemed necessary by the mediators for re-establishing peace.

In the fact of a chaotic condition induced by a general strike and the resulting food shortage, furthermore, the house of representatives was scheduled to meet at 6 p. m. to consider a resolution by Salvador Garcia Ramon, a Liberal, condemning Welles' consultations about peace with government and opposition representatives as prejudicial to Cuban autonomy and asking Latin American nations to support Cuba's ideal of independence.

Many Liberal leaders were frank in saying Machado's rejection of the peace plan might invite American intervention.

Meanwhile, the government announced it had granted labor's demands and the backbone of the widespread strike which for days has tied up transportation and many other industries would be broken today.

It was learned on reliable authority, however, that the central strike committee was informed by delegates from various unions they would not consent to return to work while constitutional guarantees of freedom remained suspended.

Patrols of policemen and guards were continued today, after the withdrawal of soldiers, as the death toll from violent acts continued to mount. Two policemen were killed and two others were wounded here last night in gunfire from an unidentified automobile.

In Manzanillo, a workman and a policeman were killed and several were injured when authorities broke up a riot. Monday night 21 persons were killed and at least 146 wounded in a demonstration here after a false report was issued saying Machado had quit.

In Havana many proprietors of small shops were clubbed as authorities forced them to open their stores against their will. Police stopped all automobile drivers at the points of guns.

The military supervisor in Camaguey notified the newspaper Camagueyano that he would henceforth issue news dispatches—an indication that censorship would be renewed under the martial law decree.

Great importance was attached to the arrival by airplane of Secretary of State Orestes Ferrara, who has attended the World Economic Conference in London. He was expected to confer with Machado immediately.

Several legations have asked for information about the deaths Monday. The diplomatic corps was scheduled to meet yesterday at 3 p. m., but the conference was cancelled and may be conducted today.

NRA Administrator Plans Attack Against Violators Of Program

Officially Withholding Fire for Two Weeks, the Recovery Administration Is Actually Laying Plans Against Those Who Break Faith.

Washington, Aug. 9 (P).—The National Recovery Administration has begun its attack against violators of its program.

Officially the administration was holding fire against violators until some date a couple of weeks hence. But it did reveal that it already was plotting out a plan of attack on those who break faith with or refuse to abide by codes of fair competition designed to raise wages and provide more jobs.

While Hugh S. Johnson, administrator, frowned at the word "boycott," he nevertheless allowed it to become known that the government would use some of the following methods:

Refusal of the government to buy material from industries holding aloof from President Roosevelt's recovery move.

Publication in newspapers of the names of those who display NRA's "blue eagle" but who violate pledges.

A nation-wide combine of housewives against retail establishments refusing to accept codes.

Already, Johnson's organization has made plans or been voluntarily promised the name of violators. Foremost in this group are the American Federation of Labor and the newly created Consumers' Protective Bureau, the latter linked to the NRA by the membership of Mrs. Hugh S. Johnson, who is on both the NRA advisory board and the consumers' bureau.

The American Federation of Labor, at the direction of its president, will clear the names of violators through its state and city organizations. The Consumers' Bureau will deal more directly with them; it will, after all other efforts have failed, make their names available for publication, together with a summary of the infraction.

The housewives' organization is under the direction of Miss Mary Hughes. This women's section of the emergency re-employment campaign will carry on an educational program in the 48 states with the objective of convincing the housewives and other women purchasers of the desirability of doing all their buying in retail establishments displaying—and complying with—the pledge of the "blue eagle."

BEER GETS WELCOME IN NEBRASKA THURSDAY

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 9 (P).—Beer comes out of hiding in Nebraska tomorrow and gets a formal welcome at the front door.

At 12:01 a. m., the 3.2 beer will be legal and in only a few cities, including Lincoln, have movements developed to exercise local option and bar its sale.

Many Nebraskans got their first sips of the new brew some time ago, but they did so without official sanction. Governor Charles W. Bryan squelched plans of city officials at Scottsbluff to issue licenses prematurely, but in Omaha beer has been sold openly for some time.

Approximately five thousand licenses will be ready to distribute here—said D. F. Felton, state director of agriculture, who will collect the state's tax of 83 cents a barrel.

An Omaha brewery official estimated 5,000 men would be engaged directly or indirectly in the beer business in Nebraska and would draw $700,000 a month.

HEARS APPEAL OF CONVICTED MURDERER

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 9 (P).—Governor Lehman had before him today the clemency appeal of Stephen Russell Witherell, 40, who killed his father at Hopkinton, St. Lawrence county, May 30, 1932, in a dispute over the woman's impending marriage.

Witherell's conviction was upheld several weeks ago in the court of appeals. Under state law, only clemency from Governor Lehman can save him from the electric chair at Sing Sing.

The murder occurred in the father's bed room. It was charged that Witherell shot his father in bed, took some money and went to New York city where the marriage took place. Afterward he returned home, "discovered" the body, notified police, and was arrested.

Held For District Court. John Steitz and Joseph Deleskiewicz of Millerville, Columbia county, were arrested by Kingston prohibition agents on July 17, had a hearing before U. S. Commissioner A. C. Connelly Tuesday afternoon. They were charged with possession of an unlicensed still, in operation and a large quantity of alleged whiskey and hard cider. The commissioner held them for District Court, bail being fixed at $2,000 for Steitz and $1,000 for Deleskiewicz.

Martial Law In Amoy Amoy, China, Aug. 9 (P).—Chinese authorities declared martial law today throughout Amoy as a result of increased apprehension regarding communist activities near Langkum.

Many thousands of refugees, fleeing from the interior to this seaport because of what they call the red danger, streamed into Amoy without means of support. The influx caused city authorities to establish military rule.

Manny Strelw Pleads Not Guilty To Charge In Kidnaping Affair

Strelw and 10 Others Charged With Kidnaping Lieut. John J. O'Connell, Jr.—Expert to Determine Others Shortly, Says District Attorney.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 9 (P).—Manny Strelw, kidnap intermediary arrested for the abduction of Lieut. John J. O'Connell, Jr., pleaded not guilty in Albany County Court today to a charge of kidnaping.

Strelw was indicted with 10 "John Does and Richard Roes" for the kidnaping. This was revealed when the sealed indictment returned yesterday by the grand jury was opened. District Attorney John T. Delaney, who ordered Strelw's arrest yesterday at Monticello, said he expects to arrest three or four more men within a few hours.

Dressed in a navy blue suit, Strelw appeared with his attorney, Daniel Prior, who entered his plea. He listened to the indictment, which charged that he and the 10 other "Does and Roes," "Did seize, confine, inveigle and kidnap one John J. O'Connell, Jr., with intent to cause him without authority of law and against his will to be secretly kept, detained, confined and imprisoned in the state of New York and elsewhere."

District Attorney Delaney explained that the fact provision for 10 other persons was made in the indictment did not necessarily mean that many were believed to have been involved in the crime. He also said the reference to confinement "in New York state and elsewhere" was a technicality and did not mean that O'Connell might have been held prisoner in another state.

Neither Strelw nor Prior had any comment. After the arraignment they retired to an ante room for a conference. Strelw will go back to jail, as his attorney did not ask Judge Earl H. Gallup for his release in bail.

Tweddie, McAndrew To Open Men's Shop

Formerly Connected with Montgomery Ward, H. A. Tweddie and Raymond McAndrew, to Open "Men's Wear."

A new store, "Men's Wear," to be located at 275 Fair street, the building formerly occupied by Rosenthal, will open some time within the next two weeks with H. A. Tweddie, formerly manager of Montgomery Ward and Company, and Raymond McAndrew, formerly men's clothing manager of the same concern, as partners in the business. Both Mr. Tweddie and Mr. McAndrew, resigned their former positions on Tuesday to embark upon this private venture.

Mr. Tweddie was the manager of Montgomery Ward and Company's local store, when it was opened here in 1923, and so successful was he in this position that his store ranked among the leaders in this district. Previous to his connection here, Mr. Tweddie was a trainee for a period of 11 months in several stores in this district.

Mr. McAndrew has been interested in the clothing business for the past 18 years, having been employed by Flanagan, Archer and Watkins, and later at Sweeney and Schonger's in the men's clothing departments, where he gained a wide experience in men's apparel.

The new shop will cater especially to men, having a complete line of suits, shirts, underwear, ties and other accessories. Both men have a wide acquaintance, and it is expected that the new business will prosper.

Must Not Shorten Hours Says Johnson

Washington, Aug. 9 (P).—Citing that the intent of the Recovery Act was to increase employment, Administrator Hugh S. Johnson said today in a statement that no retailer could stagger employ hours, enforce rest periods or shorten the hours of store operation without defeating the purpose of the codes.

His emphatic assertion immediately took place among the most significant yet to come from the NRA. In view of constant reports as to retailers for getting around the codes and yet displaying the blue eagle.

Inquiries on this point have increased of late, while the officials have plugged ahead at other aspects of making the law effective.

The militant Johnson took time off from the opening hearing on 27 codes proposed for the coal industry to stress his point as to retailers. At that crowded session in the huge commerce department auditorium, the struggle between union and non-union forces was flushing to a full height.

Putting that quarrel off for future determination, Johnson insisted that while the agreements signed by retail stores and groceries provided that no store open less than 32 hours a week before July 1, could reduce the store hours at all, the intent was that hours of operation should not be curtailed in any way.

POSTPONE BID OPENING FOR CATSKILL POST OFFICE

Washington, Aug. 9 (P).—Treasury department today postponed until September 7 opening bids for construction of a new post office at Catskill, N. Y., scheduled for August 16.

Orders Summoning of Special Grand Juries

Waste Supt 40 Children Into Surf, Six Missing, One Drowned—Write on Annual Outing—Leaders Criticized.

New York, Aug. 9 (P).—Life guards and police patrolled the Rockaway shore today, seeking the bodies of six orphan children, missing since a comb struck the Edgemere Beach yesterday. One other child was drowned outright in the tragedy.

They were lost from a group of 105 frolicking youngsters of the Pride of Judea Home, enjoying an annual visit to the seashore.

The children had been taken to the beach in buses, excited and happy over their day's outing. Accompanying them were four officials of the home and ten women chaperones.

Sixty of the children, set free on the beach, waded out on a 100-yard long sandbar. It was dangerous footing, but they, hand in hand, did not know it.

A lifeguard, Harry Epstein, saw them. He blew a warning whistle and started rowing his catamaran toward them. His partner, Michael Davis, jumped from his observation tower and started swimming to them.

As the children halted, bewildered, the wave hit, swept 40 of them into the surf, and smashed the sandbar in half.

"It was like a shipwreck," said Epstein. "Heads were bobbing everywhere."

Twelve lifeguards were on the job in a moment. They worked carrying children to safety and later at resuscitation until some of them dropped.

Raymond Evans, 10, never regained consciousness after he had been pulled ashore. Nine others were brought back to life.

Police questioned the chaperones. The lifeguards criticized the party's supervision. But six little bodies were sought in vain all through the night.

THREATEN MILK STRIKE IN EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

Pottstown, Pa., Aug. 9 (P).—A strike of milk producers threatens eastern Pennsylvania.

This was disclosed at a meeting of about 150 dairymen of Montgomery county, who voted last night to support the impending strike call.

The farmers signed petitions asking the removal of Dr. Clyde L. King, federal milk administrator under the agricultural adjustment act, after denouncing as unfair the proposed marketing agreement covering the Philadelphia milk shed.

The agreement now is under consideration of the United States Department of Agriculture, and affects all producers in eastern Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey, Delaware and the eastern shore of Maryland.

The farmers demanded a return of $2.30 per hundred pounds of milk, instead of the present $1.75.

It was indicated that the strike call will be issued after a meeting next Friday in Hilltown, Montgomery county.

At another meeting in Chester county, dairymen agreed not to send milk to New York distributors, whose supply has been curtailed by striking milk producers in that state.

50 PER CENT INCREASE IN AUTOMOBILE REGISTRATIONS.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 9 (P).—A July increase of nearly 50 per cent in New York state automobile registrations over the corresponding figure for last year was reported today by Charles A. Harnett, commissioner of motor vehicles.

Harnett, reporting to State Tax Commissioner Mark Graves, said that gasoline consumption and the number of licensed filling stations also showed an increase over the corresponding figures for one year ago.

There was a 42 per cent increase in passenger car and a 113 per cent increase in commercial car registration during July over the figures for July, 1932, Harnett said. Every county in the state shared in the increases.

OIL TANKER EXPLODES NO ONE IS INJURED

New York, Aug. 9 (P).—The 73-foot oil tanker Glacette exploded about a mile off Rockaway Beach, Queens, today and burned 40 minutes, the state's edge with a loss estimated at $20,000. No one was injured.

The craft was enroute from Brooklyn to Long Beach with a load of oil when the explosion occurred in the engine room.

Only two men, Captain Ralph Fernandez, and a helper, Chris Ashland, both of Brooklyn, were aboard. They took to the water in a dory and were rescued by police boats.

The explosion, seen from the shore, caused much excitement along the beach, and two planes and several police launches were called out.

Communist Rehearsed Hamburg, Germany, Aug. 9 (P).—An executioner's axe today beheaded Wilhelm Volck, a communist who killed a police officer during a riot on February 28, Volck, sentenced to death for murder, led a raid on a Nazi gathering-place in the course of which the policeman was shot and several storm troopers wounded.

Governor Lehman Sends Telegram to District Attorneys of All Counties in the State—Orders Naming of Unlimited Number of Deputy Sheriffs.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 9 (P).—Governor Herbert H. Lehman today ordered the summoning of special grand juries and the appointment of unlimited numbers of deputy sheriffs to quell milk strike rioting in New York state.

The order for the convening of the special grand juries, if necessary, was contained in a telegram sent to the district attorneys of all counties in the state, supplementing the governor's order of yesterday calling upon the county prosecutors to bring about arrests for strike violence.

The appointment of an unlimited number of deputy sheriffs was directed by the governor in a message to the New York legislature. The governor asked the lawmakers to amend whatever statutes prohibit the appointment of extra deputies. After the governor ordered the sheriffs of the various counties several days ago to appoint as many deputies as they needed to meet the strike situation, some of the sheriffs replied that they had no legal right to appoint extra deputies. The governor asked the legislature to give them that right.

"I urge the immediate enactment of a law providing that if a sheriff determines that an emergency exists in his county, he may appoint, in addition to other deputies and assistants, as many more special deputies as he may deem necessary for the protection of life and property," the governor said in his message to the legislature.

"Such a law should authorize the sheriff to fix the compensation of such deputies, not to exceed $5 per day for each day a deputy is actually engaged in assisting the sheriff in the performance of his duties. Such a compensation should be made a direct charge upon the county."

In his telegram to the district attorney the Governor said:

"Supplementing my telegram of August 7 informing you that it is your duty under the law as district attorney to enforce the penal law of this state and immediately to prosecute any person violating the law."

"In the discharge of that duty I advise you that a grand jury may be specially called by the county court or by the board of supervisors of your county and that the county judge has the power by order to designate and hold terms of the county court."

"I expect you as district attorney, if you find it necessary to maintain law and order and to protect life and property, to request your county court and to request your county judge or board of supervisors to call a special grand jury."

"Will you kindly report to me by telegram what you have done and propose to do with respect to prosecuting any violations of law occurring within your jurisdiction."

SIX MILK TRUCKS RUN GAUNTLET OF GUN-FIRE.

Watertown, N. Y., Aug. 9 (P).—Six milk trucks described as "bullet-riddled," arrived here this morning after running a gauntlet of gun-fire at Camden this morning. They are owned by Charles Braverman of Theresa, who, with other drivers, was returning the empty cars, laden with milk, to New York city.

The gunmen, said the drivers, lay like soldiers in roadside ditches, opening fire as the trucks roared by. No troopers were accompanying the trucks, said Braverman.

One bullet struck a cab of one of the cars, near the driver's head. The truck had been used to ship H. K. Glenn dairy milk. The Glenns, it was announced here, will begin shipping milk out of this area to New York by train today, thus avoiding the necessity of sending trucks through the heart of the milk strike area.

MILK FROM WISCONSIN ARRIVES IN SCHENECTADY

Schenectady, N. Y., Aug. 9 (P).—Four hundred cans of milk from Wisconsin arrived in Schenectady by train today, and were hauled to a dairy under heavy police guard.

It was revealed that milk had been coming into this city from Wisconsin and Ohio for several days, since a milk famine was threatened.

Schenectady dealers made their house to house deliveries under heavy police guard and several hours late today, due to threats Chief of Police William H. Funston said had been made against retail deliveries. Twenty-six police cars carrying 100 officers cruised with milk wagons. Most regular customers were supplied today, with the help of the imported milk, it was said.

NO THOUGHT OF ARMING STATE POLICE WITH MACHINE GUNS

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 9 (P).—Major John A. Warner, superintendent of the state police, said emphatically today that he had "no thought" of arming state police with machine guns unless machine guns are used against them.

"We met sticks with sticks, and now meeting rifles with rifles," Major Warner said. "There is nothing now to justify use of machine guns."

Arizona Is 21st To Vote Dry Law Repeal

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 9 (P).—The youngest state in the union is the twenty-first to vote for prohibition repeal.

Each of the 14 counties endorsed adoption of the repeal amendment to the federal constitution by an even more preponderant count of ballots than they did in repealing all of Arizona's dry laws last November. The state had been listed as a prohibition stronghold almost since attainment of statehood in 1912.

An unofficial canvass of the vote in Tuesday's special election showed the wet ballots leading the drys by more than three to one. Out of a total of 444 precincts in the state, returns from 323 gave:

For repeal, 34,389.

Against repeal, 10,147.

The missing precincts contain few votes.

Drys had conceded defeat before the balloting started. They had failed to obtain enough signatures to initiative petitions to place on the ballot candidates for delegates to a state convention which will pass on the repeal question. The negative vote was written in.

Drys have appealed to the state supreme court to rule the election null and void on the ground that the system used in passing on a proposed amendment was unconstitutional.

It was estimated less than 40 per cent of the registered electorate expressed its preference.

Arizona also tendered the Democratic congressional nomination to a close friend of the Franklin D. Roosevelt—Mrs. Isabella Greenway of Tucson, the party's national committeewoman for this state. The nomination is considered tantamount to election. She defeated two men opponents.

Ruth Nichols Will Try To Lower Record

United Airport, Burbank, Calif., Aug. 9 (P).—Ruth Nichols, aviatrix, returned here at 3:30 a. m. today to repair an ailing motor after being gone approximately two and a half hours on an attempt to lower the women's west-east transcontinental record held by Amelia Earhart.

Miss Nichols circled the field several times before landing. Evidently because it was ticklish business to drop her heavily-laden machine on to the runway. She had more than 300 gallons of gasoline in the tanks of her low-wing, speedy ship when she returned. Her landing was perfect.

Having satisfied herself the plane was in good condition except for the motor, Miss Nichols left the field to go to bed. While definite plans were not announced, she was understood to be ready to try to get away again some time after midnight tonight.

ACCIDENT ON ALBANY AVENUE YESTERDAY

Eva Raad of 4 Esopus avenue reported to the police that Tuesday afternoon a pedestrian, whose name was not given, ran in front of her car on Albany avenue. Miss Raad is making her report stating that "A pedestrian ran in front of a parked New York bus on Albany avenue to catch a bus on the other side. I put on my brakes quickly. As the car was about stopped a pedestrian slipped on the wet pavement striking the front wheel. I had just shifted into high gear and was not traveling more than 20 miles an hour."

Mother Kidnaps Son From Camp of Father

Warrants For Arrest of Mrs. Dutton Sworn Out By Estranged Husband Two Men Confess Participation.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 9 (P).—Search for a 22-year-old mother and her son whom she kidnapped yesterday from the summer camp of his father, extended throughout the middle west and Canada today while two men who confessed their participation in the case were in jail facing abduction charges.

Involved by the confessions of the two men now in custody as having taken the three-year-old boy yesterday while he was playing in the vicinity of his father's camp at Oneida Lake, warrants for the arrest of Mrs. Geraldine Reynolds Dutton of Collins Center, near Buffalo, were sworn out last night by her estranged husband, Richard A. Dutton, aviator.

The mother and son were believed by police, on information supplied by the men who confessed they aided her, as proceeding to Chicago and the west end of Canada.

The men dragged here on warrants charging kidnapping are Harold L. King, chauffeur, and William L. Bugbee, unlicensed private detective, both of whom told District Attorney Donald M. Shawlin that Mrs. Dutton engineered the plot without their full knowledge of the case.

The "helpers" said they picked up Mrs. Dutton, attired in a pair of overalls, a sweater coat and cap, at a Syracuse home in the morning and drove her to the Dutton camp. Here she alighted from the machine, walked to a yard near the camp where the boy was playing, talked to him a moment and then returned with him to the car. They said they drove her to Cape Vincent, where she doffed her disguise and took a motorboat to Kingston, Ontario.

Dutton was awarded the custody of the boy in Buffalo last May, when it was brought out in the court action that the child's father had taken him from the home of the mother without consent.

The couple, once known as the "Flying

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Uniontown, Pa., Aug. 9.—Down from his mountain home, John P. Gleason, a tall man with flowing white beard, received a classroom welcome from striking miners. Thoroughly bewildered, Gleason heard the strikers shout: "Welcome Governor!" Gleason, nicknamed "Piney" by some of his friends because of his resemblance to the governor of Pennsylvania, fled into the court house and hid.

Said the Angeles Temple Evangelist, whose seven months' sojourn abroad brought her near-grave widowhood because Hutton was tired of being an also-ran in the public notice: "Yes, we had a long chat, but I do not wish to discuss it at present."

Hutton commented tersely: "Talked things over. Probably another visit soon. Nothing to say."

Then he hurried away to the stage of a theater for his singing act and returned for another word with his wife.

"It is possible that the complaint filed by Mr. Hutton may be discontinued," commented Mayo after conferring with his client who had conferred with Harry C. Brandon, the singer's business manager, who had conferred with Willard Andrews, the evangelist's lawyer, who had conferred with her. "We're going to let things stand as they are at present."

Hutton is going ahead with his career in vaudeville houses.

His wife will hold a revival meeting in Racine, Wis., and another in Cedar Rapids, Ia., between September 17 and 27.

NEW FENCES COMPLETED AT TWO LOCAL SCHOOLS

The new chain link fences at School 5 on Smith avenue and School 7 on Crown street are now completed and improve both sections. The erection was under personal supervision of George W. Nichols of Binnewater. The fence materials were products of G. F. Wright Steel and Wire Co. of Worcester, Mass. Stone and sand were furnished by Bundy and Haines, cement by Schryver Lumber Co., and the cartage and distribution of fence materials to schools was made by Van Ert and Hogan, whose prompt efficient service aided the completion of contract one week ahead of schedule. The courteous cooperation of the school mechanic, Mr. Elmendorf, and his assistants also helped the contractors to finish the job in record time.

BINNENEATER
Binnewater, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Mildred W. Nichols was called to Socialist Home Sunday night to assist in the care of Mrs. Kramer, who recently suffered from a stroke. Dr. Galvin of Rosendale is the attending physician. It was decided after a consultation to remove the elderly woman to a Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Walker and daughter, Ellen, of Massett, L. I., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien of Twin Maple Cottage have had several guests over the week-end.

Clarence Oke of the Eastern Fence & Wire Co., Worcester, Mass., was a business caller here last week on George W. Nichols, during which the proposed wire code was discussed covering distribution and erection by legitimate fence men. It is hoped the matter can be solved shortly, eliminating many cut-throat practices so objectionable in trade. Later, accompanied by Mrs. Oke, they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nichols as was Wilfred Kuhn of Woodside, L. I., and Victor Johnson and Ludwig Erickson of Worcester, Mass.

Mr. Dugan, who was recently hurt in an auto accident is now at home. It is hoped by his many friends that he will gradually recover his good health.

District Attorney Aids In Old Case

The disappearance and possible murder of Alfred Stein, 28, of 139 Fountain avenue, Brooklyn, last seen by friends on the night of July 31, was brought to the attention of District Attorney Clegg R. Murray Tuesday. A telegram from the New York city police department stated that Stein was missing, that they had been advised that he had been murdered and were requesting the district attorney to interview Frank Carlsky of Kerkonkson.

The district attorney and Deputy Sheriff Abram Molyneux interviewed Carlsky, who runs the Hillside boarding at Mombaccus, Tuesday afternoon.

Carlsky, who is the father-in-law of Stein, said that the latter, with Robert DeBatt and Murray Brief, had come to his place late in the afternoon of Saturday, July 29. They left between two and three o'clock on the morning of Monday, July 31. Later he was told that Stein and DeBatt worked all day Monday at the plant of the Division Lumber Co., 125 Division street, Brooklyn, and that that night the three men, Stein, DeBatt and Brief, were together until 10 or 10:30 o'clock. He was told that that was the last Stein had been seen by the other two men.

Carlsky also informed the officials that Brief had told him, on Sunday last, that Stein must have borrowed money from some crooks, couldn't pay it back and had either been threatened with murder or murdered.

The information secured by District Attorney Murray was turned over to the New York police.

NEW LIFE-SAVING TIRE PREVENTS CAUSE OF BLOW-OUTS

Tests prove this new tire is 3 times safer at high speeds

UNFORTUNATELY you can't pick your spots when a blow-out happens. They never occur that way. Blow-outs come when you least expect them... when steep cliffs yawn or ditches beckon... BANG! There it hits the road... you're headed for trouble. Don't— for your own sake or your family's—let blow-outs endanger you.

What causes blow-outs

Today's high speeds—40, 50, 60 and 70—generate terrific heat inside your tire. Rubber and fabric separate. A blister forms... inside... where you can't see it... and GROWS... until... BANG! A blow-out! And your car shoots madly off the road.

To protect you from blow-outs, every new Goodrich Safety Silvertown Tire has the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This new invention resists intense heat. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Thus, blisters don't form inside the tire. Blow-outs are prevented before they even start.

At gruelling speeds, on the world's fastest track, the new Goodrich Safety Silvertown Tires lasted 3 times as long as first quality tires that did not have this feature. These Silvertowns never blew. They were run till the tread was gone—but the Life-Saver

Golden Ply simply refused to give. The tread, too, is safer from skidding. Scientific tests with leading makes of tires prove that the new Goodrich Silvertown has the most skid-resisting tread. Its squeegee drying action gives your car extra road-grip and reduces danger of skidding to a minimum.

Remember, Goodrich Safety Silvertowns cost not a single penny more than standard tires. Have a set put on your car now!

Buy Now! WHILE PRICES ARE STILL LOW No extra charge for Life-Saver Golden Ply GOODRICH SILVERTOWN BLOW-OUT PROTECTION IS FREE

Learning From Toys

Often the most satisfactory toys are found by chance.

One little girl's favorite plaything was a large box of embroidery cut-outs. They were a collection comprising nearly every shade and color in the spectrum, and the baby—her she was not yet 18 months old—would sit on the floor for hours dragging the skins about her neck.

She soon learned not to pull the skins to pieces or start them or stick them in her mouth, because any thus treated were quickly discarded.

In time she learned that there were names to the colors, and would hold up a skin with the laconic inquiry, "What?" The mother replied with equal brevity—red or blue or violet, according to the color.

Later on the child would hold up two shades of the same color, which then became red and light red or green and light green as the case might be, until eventually the distinction between near shades such as blue green or sea blue came to be made.

When the novelty threatened to pall after some months, the mother began to make suggestions such as "Put all the reds together or all the blues." That led to shading the various groups in order.

By the time she was 2 years old she had developed a keen sense of color value which will always be of use to her.

Had the game become a lesson it would have been spoiled from the start. To insist on the child's remembering the name of the color even after 10 successive questions and answers would have spoiled the play entirely.

As it was, the information entered the child's brain when she was ready for it, with no strain on the attention.

BLOOMINGTON

The many friends and neighbors of John W. Merrell were shocked on Friday afternoon around 4 o'clock to hear of his sudden death as he had been in ill health for only a short time. He will be missed by his many friends and neighbors. He was always of a cheerful disposition and had a good word for everyone. All extend sympathy to his wife, Mrs. Merrell, and relatives.

Mrs. M. Barrett and daughter, Miss Florence N. Barrett, of Fort Lee, N. J., came on Sunday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Ennis. She also visited her brother, Clifford, who is ill. They spent two or three days while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Stokes of Pleasantville spent the week-end with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Bush.

Consistory meeting was held Monday evening at the parsonage for transacting business. It was the regular monthly meeting.

Carl Bach and daughter, Miss Gertrude, and friend of Bergenfield, N. J., and Herman Thielbar of River Edge, N. J., spent the week-end here at their summer cottage.

Clifford Ennis, who has been ill for a number of weeks at his sister's, Mrs. Joseph Yunker's, is not improving very rapidly at this writing.

Mrs. Etta Lewis and two sons and family and Mrs. E. L. DeGraff visited Mohonk Lake one day the past week. All reported having a pleasant trip.

Mrs. Rufus LeFever, who was quite seriously ill in the Benedictine Hospital for two or three weeks, was brought to her home Saturday afternoon. All are glad to hear she is doing as well as may be expected.

Some of the girls of the Girls' League for Service, enjoyed a two weeks' vacation, camping in Springtown. The time was spent in various amusements, such as hiking, swimming and picnicking. Those who went were Mrs. Edwin LeFever, Miss Florence Reiser, Virginia Markle, Shirley Brown, Violet and Dorothy Smith, Eleanor Bunker, Evelyn Fagher, Marguerite Ransdessor and Ruth Hotelling.

"The Star-Spangled Banner"
While a prisoner on the English frigate Surprise, during the British attack on Ft. Mifflin in 1814, Francis Scott Key wrote "The Star-Spangled Banner," the song which brings men to their feet when the first chord is struck. The music was originally composed for an old drinking song by Dr. Samuel Arnold, in "Anacrusis in B-flat," through some say John Stafford Smith was the author in 1772.

Life Is Just One Accessory After the Other

BON BON PINK IS SWEET

New York—After the white linen, or pique, evening coat, what? Why, transparent velvet, of course, unless you prefer taffeta and are reserving velvet until later.

No matter what the fabric, we start the season by topping our best frocks with coats that are lighter, not darker, than the dress. The bon bon shades offer an appetizing array of shades after which we may go on to the deeper and more glowing jewel tones. But the big news item in evening colors is gray, the darker taupe and cool grays having the call.

Whether the collars are of fur, or self fabric, they are on the upgrade. This is to be expected with bodices built to the throat too.

It may be overly early to week up any excitement about theatre hats and evening bandeaux, but it is just as well to have time to adjust oneself to the idea that just hair, no matter how beautifully dressed, is not going to be a sufficient head covering for you this season. Your over head expenses are going to be decidedly higher. The shops are already playing up dinner and theater hats, even jeweled ornaments, bandeaux and the like. Just another accessory to worry about which brings to mind the very important fact that gloves are perhaps the most important accessory of all. Not content with transparent effects, designers of gloves are experimenting with the idea of gloves the fingers of which end at the knuckles, a mitt with half fingers.

Mannequins at all the fashion shows being held are being gloved in character, so to speak. The black satin glove is seen very often, usually worn with woolen daytime frocks, often in bright sports colors, where it makes an arresting contrast.

Sometimes it appears with black satin or taffeta evening gowns, giving a very sleek and chic effect, particularly when the mannequins are sun tanned.

For festive occasions, a dress of black grenadine with velvet ribs is topped by a coat of bon bon pink Lyon velvet; the bodice of the frock is trimmed with cheville ribbon.

The Beret, a Hardy Perennial

Paris—The hats which seemed to please everyone best in the new Reboux collection were in a group which can be designated as berets, although some were very much disguised. There was, for instance, a beret made of quarter sections of felt in different tones of blue, which was caught in to form a tight little cap, with the rest of the beret pulled forward, the whole suggesting a jockey cap, especially as a little knot of ribbon marked the break between crown and forehead part.

Some of the most attractive berets were regular round tam crowns joined to small brims which turned up very much at one side framing the face in profile, this profile silhouette always a favorite here and considerably shown for autumn. These were made of hairy angora materials with white hairs standing out against the brown or dark blue of the ground.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Fagottings are important decorations on early autumn dresses; especially in women's fashions, and chosen especially for dresses developed in satin and velvet.

The tunic dress not only appears in daytime collections, but is also approved for evening, many of the daytime tunic dresses suggest coat style.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Popular Style.

7942. In this attractive model the yoke and sleeve sections are combined. The sleeve portions are lengthened by an extension to form a puff. An elastic band confines the fulcrum, permitting the sleeve to be pushed up on the arm. The skirt is mounted on a yoke shaped in points. The waist blouses slightly. Printed lawn, dimity, voile or linen may be used for this style. Combined with cotton mesh, organdy or plain voile.

Designed in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 12 will require 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material together with 1/2 yard of contrasting material for yoke and belt. If made in monochrome (without contrast) and of 35 inch material 2 1/2 yards will be required.

During the hot season in Africa, which is winter here, they are found only on the mountain tops, but when the cold season approaches they return to the lowlands. Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 9 (AP).—Financial markets, buoyed by the apparent steadiness of business and industrial progress, moved upward today in generally quiet and orderly trading.

In the early hours transactions in stocks were at a much faster pace than on Monday and yesterday and a number of points were well distributed over a fairly broad base. The alcohol shares and several specialties were again in demand. Most of the top quotations, however, were shaded lower in profit-taking. Cotton got back some of its previous losses, and grains were firm on the eve of the government's crop report. Bonds registered improvement. The dollar was somewhat easier in terms of leading foreign exchanges.

"Wet" shares reflected optimism over the Arizona repeal vote. National Distillers got up about 3 and other issues in this group up 1 to around 2 included U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Commercial Solvents, Owens-Illinois, Standard Brands and

Barry Chapel in Capital

Among Earliest Churches

St. Mary's Catholic Church, which is historically known as Barry chapel because it was the gift of James Barry, was for many years regarded as the pioneer Catholic church in Washington, until an old tablet from the original church was found during the course of excavation for the foundation of St. Dominic's church, on Sixth street southwest, when a conclusion to the contrary was proven. However, it was reverently preserved by being imbedded in the rear wall of one of the buildings attached to St. Dominic's, where today one may read this inscription:

"In the name of the blessed and undivided Trinity. Amen. The first stone of a small Roman Catholic church is laid in the city of Washington in the year of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, 1806, and dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary under the title and name of St. Mary's. Gloria in Excelsis Deo. Erected by and at the charge of James Barry."

James Barry—as his name indicates—was an Irishman, as were a great many of the first residents of the Capital city—James Hoban, who designed and twice built the White House, being one of the most important. Indeed, as early as 1802, there were enough "sons of Hibernia" there to form a St. Patrick's day parade, which they did, wearing shamrocks in their hats.—Washington Star.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK
In the Matter of ABRAHAM BINDER, Bankrupt.

Upon reading and filing the annexed Petition of JOHN BONOMO, Trustee herein, verified the 5th day of August, 1933, and upon all proceedings heretofore had herein.

NOW ON MOTION OF FLOYD W. POWELL, Attorney for said Trustee, it is ORDERED that all of the creditors of ABRAHAM BINDER, bankrupt, and all other persons interested in said bankrupt's estate, show cause before me at the Superior Court Room in the County Court House in the City of Kingston, Ulster County, New York, on the 15th day of August, 1933, at 2:00 o'clock P. M. (P. S. T.) why the assets of said bankrupt's estate, consisting of proceeds and miscellaneous stock, more particularly itemized in the inventory filed herein and therein valued at $500.00, should not be sold to IRVING M. TOFFEL for the sum of $300.00 cash, or to such other person or persons, who on the return of this Order might make a more favorable offer therefor.

Dated, Aug. 8th, 1933.

WALTER J. MILLER,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

Traders who attempted to rekindle the inflationary fire yesterday were not so positive today that the administration was contemplating any immediate drastic expansion of the currency. The treasury department revealed that per capita circulation of money in the United States declined more than 1½ per cent during July. The country's monetary stock, as of July 31, therefore, disclosed deflation instead of inflation. It was about $309,000,000 under the total of July 31, last year.

Although various market observers continue to sound mild warnings regarding too much optimism for a further upswing of stock prices, brokerage houses reported that short selling has been negligible during the past several days. At the same time, it is said, there has been a steady demand from small cash buyers for the better grade shares. Speculation, however, it is pointed out, is still under the influence of heavy margin requirements.

Tennis Is a Royal Game;

Americans Good Players

Tennis may well be called a royal game, for it has been popular with various kings of England and France, and it can be said to have originated as a game with the Greeks and Romans, who played it with a peculiarly shaped racket something like a lacrosse stick or a hockey stick with a net attached.

The word "tennis" is probably derived from the French word "Tenez," meaning "Take it! Play!"

In A. D. 1300 the game was known as la boude, and throughout that century it was played all over France by the highest in the land. Indeed, Louis X died through a chill contracted after playing, and Charles VI of France watched it being played from the room in which he was confined during his attack of insanity.

A strange page in the history of tennis is found in the statement that although there were 230 courts in Paris alone during the sixteenth century, there were only six courts in the whole of France in 1879, so much had its popularity decreased.

Strangely enough, although Americans are perhaps the finest tennis players in the world, the game was not introduced into the country until 1880, and was not really popular until in recent years.

Genuine Panama Hats

Genuine panama hats are made of the young leaves of the jipijapa plant, or stemless screw pine, which is especially abundant in Ecuador, where these hats are made almost exclusively. Locally this fiber is known as paja toquilla. Panama hats are woven by hand, and work on them is done only in the early morning and evening hours when the dew is out. Consequently it takes from two to three months to make one hat. Panama hats are also made in Peru and Colombia, but not in large quantities. Panama hats received their name from the fact that they were introduced to the commercial world through Panama; they are not made there.

International Date Line

The international date line is an imaginary line approximately 180 degrees east of Greenwich at which point a traveler gains a day going east-bound and loses a day going west-bound. Sailing eastward a ship moves with the rotation of the earth; thus her course makes her gain time, while sailing westward against the movement of the earth lengthens her time. The additional day gained when traveling east-bound is called "antipodes day."

Persia's Capital

Teheran, the capital, is the embodiment of modern Persia. Not unlike some American western cities which grew up in an oil boom, Teheran has wooden buildings and wide streets, copied from Western models. Its shops are more European than oriental, and the people dress like Europeans, with few veiled women to be seen. It is a city of embassies and government buildings, with a social life of European type.

Many Small Boats Dot Red Sea

The Red sea is dotted with dhows, those small boats manned by native crews that engage in every kind of maritime adventure from ferrying ducks to Mecca to transporting slaves surreptitiously. There is no shipping record of their departures and arrivals. Navigating them among the coral reefs that will slice the hull like a knife, is dangerous.

India World in Hoof

India, representing every stage in man's religious, political and artistic growth, is a world in itself. Mosques, temples, sanctuaries, shrines and cathedrals dot the land. The burning ghats on the Ganges, India's method of burial, are interesting. The wealth of the relatives can be judged by the wood burned, due to its scarcity.

Beauty Jumpers

A beauty jumper in Civil war days referred to a man who enlisted in the army when bonuses were being paid for enlistments. After receiving the reward he deserted. Often the same man would collect several bonuses under different names.

Balbo and His Air Fleet at Lisbon

Lisbon, Portugal, Aug. 9 (AP).—The leading airplanes of General Italo Balbo's Italian air armada began to alight in the Tagus river this afternoon after completing the hop from the Azores.

The armada was first sighted fifty miles from Cascaes, which is fourteen miles west of Lisbon. The planes were being led by wireless because of the fog.

It was 2:30 p. m. G. M. T. (3:34 a. m. E. S. T.), when the ships began landing on the Tagus.

The first eleven boats had alighted by 2:45 p. m. G. M. T., at that time the second body of planes under command of General Pelligrini had not been sighted.

Thousands thronged the Black Horse Square pier, waiting to cheer Balbo when he came ashore.

The second squadron of nine planes soon appeared and swept gracefully down to the Tagus like huge seagulls. This group began to land at 3:10 p. m. G. M. T.

Air Armada Flier Dead from Mishap

New York, Aug. 9 (AP).—Italian air ministry officials in New York informed Rome today that Lieutenant Squaglia died today after his plane overturned as the Italian air armada was taking off from Ponta Delgada, the Azores.

The information was contained in a message to the air ministry from Colonel Mario Infante.

"I regret to announce the sad news, reported by the Commercial Cable office at the Azores, that Lieutenant Squaglia is dead," Colonel Infante said in his message, which was made public by the Mackay Radio Company.

Musical Program Played for Rotary

Members and guests of the Kingston Rotary Club listened to a delightful musical program in the Governor Clinton this noon, when Father Bracken of Brooklyn favored the group with a selection of songs, and Bernard Weiser, his accompanist, played several selections on the piano to make the program a complete success. Samuel Scudder, Jr., who was scheduled to give a talk on the World Fair, graciously deferred his remarks until a later date so that Father Bracken and Mr. Weiser might have the program completed.

Irving J. Kauder of New Paltz was also welcomed into the club as a new member. Guests present at the meeting were W. B. Tongue of Poughkeepsie, and Fred Morris of Ithaca.

Sheriffs Report On the Milk Strike

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP).—An Associated Press survey of sheriffs' offices of the state this morning gave the law officers' own picture of the situation in the milk strike, now in its ninth day.

What the sheriffs said:

Neil D. Lewis, Chenango, where there was considerable activity yesterday: "The situation is quite a bit better today. We've had no reports of disturbances yet."

Oneida county, Sheriff John Smith: "Things are worse. We're swarming in more depredations today."

Lewis county, Sheriff Louis A. Kohler: "Quite peaceful. We're swarming in extra depredations, however, at the request of Dairyman's League and Borden plant officials—enough to have two men at each plant."

Cattaraugus county, Sheriff A. J. Robinson: "The county, by and large, is peaceful, but we have some sections where conditions are not so good. These include Mexico and Central Square. There was dumping at Mallory this morning."

Madison county, Sheriff E. J. Spaulding: "The situation is no worse than it has been. In fact, it may be a little better. The only major disturbance we heard of this morning was at Erieville where strikers entered a plant and dumped 60 to 75 cans. I've got 65 extra deputies and plan to have a couple hundred."

Albany county, Edward J. Keegan: "Quietest in several days. No dumping or violence."

St. Lawrence county, Sheriff Edson A. Martin: "Situation so quiet that sheriff decided to take his vacation."

Cortland county, Sheriff Kenneth Parker: "Situation about the same. Everything quiet this morning, except a milk dumping spree between Cortland and Tully and an attempt to intercept milk going out of a plant at Homer. The milk was sent out before strikers arrived."

Montgomery county, Sheriff Mrs. John E. Wires: "I have deputy sheriffs on guard at all plants in the county and they report quiet today; do not anticipate any disorder at present."

Kingsport: "Hold Your Man." After their success together in "Red Dust," Mr. Gable and Miss Harlow, Hollywood's potent love makers, are once more seen in a wild, modern story of a girl about town, and a boy who hates to work and earn an honest living. In an effort to escape the clutches of the law one day, Mr. Gable sneaks into Miss Harlow's room.

Mad and "Dance Hall Hostess." Mary Brian, Pat O'Brien, Neil Hamilton, Evelyn Brent, and Louis Calhern are featured in the first double feature attraction, a lively melodrama, well acted and entertaining. "Dance Hall Hostess" with Helen Chandler, Eddie Nugent and Jason Robards is another one of those dance hall romances, with several exciting spots during the course of the action.

Tomorrow. Kingsport: Same. Orpheum: Same. Broadway: "Laughing at Life." Victor McLaglen is the star of this unusual talkie, a comedy picture with Mr. McLaglen the whole show from start to finish.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS and SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Florine McKim, 20, a small and blue-eyed, practiced thief. And if she hadn't been able to stay in Hollywood long enough to win the movie contract that was approved in court the other day.

The contract brings her $125 a week to start. Nearly two years ago she had another contract, with Paramount, that brought only $75. "I spent only a little part of that," says Florine, "and saved the rest. Some of my friends used to kid me about my saving money, but if I hadn't saved, I shouldn't have been able to last the eight discouraging months that followed the close of my first contract."

Delusions Of Grandeur

"It was really funny once when some friends from home came to see me," she relates. "They expected that, since I was in the movies, I'd be living in a mansion and dressing like a queen. I think. When they asked to see my wardrobe I opened a closet door and showed them my few dresses. Were they surprised!" Florine's "success story" of two years ago lasted only the six months of the contract she won when, after leaving Hollywood in discouragement to return home to Fort Worth, Tex., she was summoned back by long distance telephone.

The picture she was recalled for was cancelled, but her contract kept her from accepting New York stage offers, one from Ziegfeld, that came. She played one nice role in "Cynara" with Ronald Colman, and a bit in "The Miracle Man." She sings, dances, plays the piano, has studied all three since childhood, and her work in "Cynara" was liked, but after her contract expired the only work she found was a singing role in "It's Great to Be Alive," and a second lead in a stage revival of "The Merry Widow."

Then Success

"We were terribly discouraged, mother and I, and were preparing to give up and go home when one morning, after a tennis game, I met a producer from M-G-M. He invited me to come to the studio, sing and dance for him and make a test, and after that I was given a small part with Joan Crawford in "Dancing Lady." Before I finished they gave me the contract, and here I am, working in "Beauty for Sale" today. The clock struck 12 for Cinderella, but it got around only to half past eleven for Florine McKim."

Says Union Fails to Obey Court's Order

Kingston, N. Y., August 9, 1933

Editor, Kingston Daily Freeman, Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Sir: Kindly permit me the liberty of writing your paper, concerning the continued, intentional unemployment and neglect on the part of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Motion Picture Operators of U. S. and Canada in Kingston, N. Y., Local No. 637.

I stated in my direct appeal, through the Supreme Court for justice and reinstatement. A decision was handed down in my favor for specified reinstatement by the honorable Judge John T. Loughran and it was arranged and presumed that my services as Vitaphone and Sound Operator would be resumed at the earliest possible date. It is quite apparent that the officials continue to ignore my appeal through the court, regarding employment in this local.

I have at hand my membership card of reinstatement dated April 13, 1933, accepted and approved with dues fully paid up to August, 1933. I was however given to understand that there was no work for me in my line of employment, yet there are vacancies which occur and are now in existence, but active favoritism is practiced and I am without any employment. I have been unable to get any assistance or cooperation and believe that this kind of treatment by a few officials in many organized trades is one of the reasons for the ill will and dissatisfaction among employees and the sooner the general public is informed of these conditions the sooner our condition in general will be improved.

Trusting you will be kind enough to give this the publicity your worthy newspaper affords, I am Very truly yours,

Goldsmith's Temper Aroused Although Goldsmith wrote the immortal classic "The Vicar of Wakefield" and "The Good-Natured Man," so potent was his satire that he once fell indignant at the admiration bestowed by a company of his acquaintances upon the ability of a monkey, and, starting up in anger and impatience, exclaimed, "I could do all that myself."

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. COULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Babe Ruth, in his twentieth major league season, is approaching the two mark in home runs. He needs only 45 this year to reach that grand total and he was half-way to the goal by the end of July.

A few years ago the remark was made in this column that the Babe's aggregate would be something for the boys to shoot at for the rest of our life-time. It is still virtually certain that no other player inside of the next ten years will hit his 700th big league home run, but beyond that nothing can be predicted with any degree of certainty; not when two strong-armed and broad-backed young men like Jimmie Foxx and Henry Lou Gehrig are hot on the slugging trail.

Gehrig is farther along the road now, with a total of 267 homers to his credit in eight consecutive seasons, but Lou is 36 years old. Even if he lasts as long in regular harness as the remarkable Ruth and keeps his batting eye undimmed, Gehrig will have to average more than 40 circuit blows per season to touch the Babe's grand total. He should hit his 300th this year.

Jimmie First Bat.

Foxx, only 25 now, had his big year in 1932 when he came within two wallops of tying Ruth's major league record of 60 for a single season. He has only been playing regularly since 1928. His aggregate home run output was 174 up to the start of this season and he is beyond the 200 mark now.

Give Foxx as long a baseball life as Ruth, with about 15 more years of active play, and he will need to average close to 35 home runs per season to top the 700 mark.

It's possible, therefore, for either Gehrig or Foxx to shoot for the record over the next 10 or 15 years, but it must be remembered that the competition is tougher, the pitchers getting better and the ball no livelier. Neither Jimmie nor Lou now has a chance to plaster the kind of a "rabbit" ball that Ruth started to batter all over the premises in 1920. Still the A's first sacker is doing as well this year as he was in 1932 and he has the power to drive any ball out of the park when he connects. Gehrig, however, has not been finding the range as often as usual this season.

$7,500 Worth Of Tonic.

One of the big reasons for the great rush of the New York Giants to little Hughie Critz who covers the ground around second base like a circus tent, and the story behind this is that it cost the club something like $7,500.

That was the amount the Giants paid for young Byrne James, flashy Texas League infielder, a year ago when it looked as though Critz's arm was about through and that a replacement likely would be required for 1933.

But as soon as Critz saw James scampering around in spring training, things took a change for the better. With his job at stake, Hughie began taking more chances with his arm. Finding no ill effects from this pressure, Critz tossed caution aside and has been going great runs ever since. He has been fielding and hitting better than in years, while young Mr. James warms the bench.

Tagging Major League Bases

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Just when it appeared the New York Yankees in general and Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in particular had swung back into their devastating ways, along came Earl Whitehill, leader of Joe Cronin's meanest staff at Washington. As the result, the Senators today held a two-game advantage over the champions with one game to be played in the current warfare at the Stadium.

Unlike the team that rose in its might to sweep a doubleheader Monday, the Yankees yesterday were meek as lambs before the southpaw shoots of Whitehill as the Senators won, 5 to 1. Twice, when hits might have changed the complexion of the game, Babe Ruth hit into double plays.

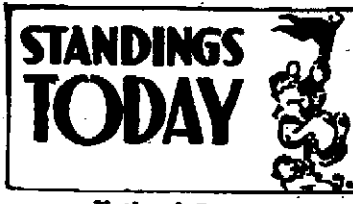

The Senators opened up a short but effective bombardment on Johnny Allen. They connected with only seven hits but two of the blows were home runs by Buddy Myer and Heinie Manush and three were successive singles by Goose Goslin, Manush and Manager Joe Cronin.

The Washington-New York fray again overshadowed the remainder of the major leagues' abbreviated program that included the Athletics 7 to 6 decision over the Red Sox in the American League and the Dodgers 1 to 0 victory in 11 innings over the Giants and the Cubs 4 to 2 triumph over the Cardinals and Dizzy Dean in the senior circuit.

Robert Moses Grove, appearing for the first time since breaking the Yankees shutout streak, won his 17th game of the season as the A's turned back the Red Sox but he needed the help of three home runs, one of them Jimmie Foxx's thirty-second circuit clout of the season.

The Dodgers and Giants put on a pitching duel between Ray Benge and Hal Schumacher, and Brooklyn emerged with the winning run in the eleventh. Schumacher loaded the bases on two singles and a base on balls but it was an error by Johnny Vergez, just when the Giants appeared on their way out of the hole, that let Pinch Runner Danny Taylor cross the plate. Benge set the Giants down with three hits, two of them by Schumacher, while his mates got to the Giant hurler for nine.

The Cubs, who last week helped Dean establish a new strike record, avenged themselves by defeating the Cards in the opening game of the series. Although suffering from wrist injury, received at Pittsburgh last week, Dean fanned five batters. The Cubs, paced by Kiki Cuyler and Gabby Hartnett, collected eight hits, one more than the Cards were able to get off Charlie Root.

Nature does not vary. The same law that controls the shape of a tree or the physical aspect of animal life determines the moral, mental and spiritual development of the man and the woman. For all of these there is a susceptible age, and what happens during those vital years produces traits and precivities which no future treatment can wholly undo.

Connolly to Meet Woodstock Thursday

By ALAN J. COULD

Playa Artist Colony at St. Remy Thursday Evening in Preparation for Game With North Randall Social Club Sunday at St. Remy.

The Connolly A. C. will meet Woodstock, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock on the St. Remy diamond. Connolly is looking upon the game with the Artist colony as preparation for the engagement Sunday afternoon with the North Randall Social Club at St. Remy.

The Roadsters have already defeated the Connolly boys twice this season—one of the defeats was a shutout. Connolly is looking forward to beating the Social Club as part payment for the two defeats they received.

Then on August 20, the St. Remy diamond will hold the spotlight of the week-end when Port Ewen plays Connolly for the third time this season. Both squads have won one and this battle will be the deciding game. The largest crowd of the season is expected at this tilt.

Port at Highland: Answer Irish Nine

The Port Ewen Firemen will play the Cappy All Stars at Highland tonight. A few weeks ago the Firemen played the Cappies and trimmed them 2-1. Port hopes to get back in a winning stride against the Stars.

Challenge Answered.
Manager Lynch of the Irish Block Nine issued a challenge to the Port Ewen Firemen yesterday and Port proceeded to answer it today, with the report that all week-ends are booked for the remainder of the season, but that a twilight game might be arranged.

Port cancelled a game on July 16 in order to play the Irish Nine but rain prevented their meeting.

Game Sunday.
On Sunday at Hercules Field the Firemen will play the strong Dutch Masters Club of Poughkeepsie. A large crowd is expected.

BEN JEBY HAS HARD MATCH FOR TONIGHT

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—Ben Jebby, who is recognized in New York as middleweight champion of the world but who hasn't carried his claims far outside, runs into one of the toughest tests in his career tonight when he faces Lou Brouillard of Worcester, Mass., in a 15 round title fray at the Polo Grounds.

Brouillard is a southpaw and a puncher, which makes him a tough customer for any fighter, and the stolid East sider never has faced an opponent who fights with reverse English. In addition the husky French Canadian has the habit of putting his head down and slinging punches from all the unexpected angles. He hasn't a great knockout reputation but he was good enough to win the welterweight title and to whip Mickey Walker his last time out.

GRAPHIC GOLF

USING THE LEFT ARM

TO INSURE a full use of the left arm in the downswing it is well to start down by putting with the left hand. Golfers unaware of the importance of the left hand have been amazed at the beneficial results obtained by this simple advice. The action is not dissimilar at the start to the pulling of a ball over one's right shoulder. This idea applied imaginatively as the player begins the swing often enables one to start the downswing correctly. Bobby Jones has stated that he plays well when he has the feeling that he is pulling against something in the first part of the downswing. It is an apparent pull of the left arm from the shoulder, the right hand being kept out of the stroke at this time. This feeling is obviously a tug against the tension of his own muscles originated by the swinging effort.

MORE SWIMMING STARS ENTER NEARBY SWIMFEST

National distinction was given to the list of entries for the Amateur Athletic Union Aquatic Swimfest to be held under the colors of the Metropolitan Association of the A. A. U. and the Williams Lakes Swimming Club of Binnewater, by the entries of several outstanding competitors received last evening.

Charles Diehl, former national junior back-stroke champion, will come to Binnewater direct from the American Championships held in the World's Fair Lagoon at Chicago last Friday. Diehl, making the local event his first splash since his return from Chicago, will enter the open 300 yards medley event. The medley, which is better known as the all-around grind, is a combination of the three strokes, the breast stroke, the back-stroke, and the final leg of the race, the crawl. Diehl, it will be remembered, won this event last season at Williams Lakes by defeating the Middle Atlantic States Champion, Tom Pooley of the Penn. A. C. Philadelphia.

The Chum Brothers, George and Stephen, are the only nearby entries received to date. The Chums are of equal swimming ability and are representing the Roseton Athletics Club of Orange county in the medley swim event.

In the 500 yards free-style swim, so far as entered Stephen Socoy of the Central Swimming Club of Trenton, New Jersey, and Hyman Kaplan, who is a freshman at Rider College in New Jersey. Socoy is one of the most promising swimmers in the southern part of the garden state and can be looked to for making a real race for all of his fellow swimmers. Kaplan, who is on the Rider Fresh Swimming Team, made his swimming debut at the American Legion Swimming Meet at Newburgh, summer where he won two major events of the day. He also won the 500 yards event at Williams Lakes last year in the time of 7:21, which is very fast, over a straight-away course. It is expected that this time will be broken by the fast field entered in the meet next Sunday afternoon.

Word was received today from Mickey Vogt, swimming coach of the Newark Athletic Club, that he would come to Binnewater on Sunday as guest of the Williams Lakes Swimming Club to attend the Swimfest. Vogt needs no introduction to the swimming world as he has developed several Olympic stars, not to mention the fact that his back-stroke relay team is holder of the present World's record. Mr. Vogt will be one of the guest officials.

The latest entry in the women's 50 yards free-style is Miss Ernestine Gurney, sister of the diving champion, Miss Helen Gurney. Helen Gurney, who is to be the queen of the local Swimfest, is the Senior Amateur Athletic Union diving champion and will be seen in an exhibition of her skill on the diving board, while her younger sister, Ernestine, will swim in the women's trophy race. Also in the ladies' 50 yard swim there will be two of last season's place winners. They are Miss Doris Sibbitt and Miss Louise Murphy, both of Binnewater. It is hoped that before the closing of the entries there will be a swimmer from the Women's Swimming Association of New York entered in the competition.

Colonists Got Warm Welcome.
Some years ago an Englishman planted a Communist settlement in Paraguay which, like others of its kind, lasted but a few years. An amusing incident of this experiment occurred when the founder left to bring back new recruits. Upon his return the contrast between the fashionably dressed immigrants and the ragged settlers was so marked as to cause a riot among the women, who tore off the fashionable clothes of the newcomers and strewed themselves in them.

A Country of Thunderstorms.
In Java thunderstorms are so common no one takes any notice of them. Many hundreds of thunderstorms often sweep over, are experienced in the rainy season. For several months the sound of more or less distant thunder scarcely ever ceases, and it is only when there is a terrific crash right overhead that folks are conscious of the sound. In fact, the people of Java are so used to hearing thunder for a good part of the year that they have been living in a perpetual uproar.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 9, 1933.

Sun rises, 4:54; sets, 7:16, E.S.T.
Weather, clear.

The Temperature.

The lowest temperature registered by The Freeman thermometer last night was 64 degrees. The highest point reached by the thermometer today was 74 degrees.

Weather Forecast.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Eastern New York: Fair tonight; Thursday partly cloudy, slowly rising temperature in central and north portions.

The wind at Albany at 4 a. m. was north; velocity 15 miles an hour.

Heavy Rainfall Needed.

Shokan, Aug. 9.—A few gentle showers on Tuesday afternoon freshened up the surface of the ground considerably but fell far short of relieving the water supply situation, which daily grows more serious. In Ashokan, several families carry water from the good well of Mrs. Julius Ryder's house, which still has seven feet of water, while others get their supply from the schoolhouse well. At the Shokan corner store and restaurant where immense quantities of water are needed daily, they haul from the screened chamber of the reservoir. Conditions promise to be even worse than last year unless a heavy fall of rain comes soon.

General Urges for Athletics.

Shokan, Aug. 9.—Pulchritudinous damsels, attired in habiliments best calculated to attract sundry health-giving vitamins to themselves, and sun-bronzed young males of the species stroll the village streets with tennis racket in hand or crowd into cars en route to and from the well swimming pool. Never has there been such a general urge for those athletics on the part of the summer boarders and bungalow colonists in our midst as during the present season. A golf course in the north reservoir section would quite round out a reasonable supply of recreational facilities for our numerous city guests. The Ashokan country is rapidly gaining a reputation as one of nature's most inviting playgrounds, for a fact.

Apple Crop Hard Hit.

Shokan, Aug. 9.—Apples, despite the early heavy bloom, will be only a middling crop this fall as regards quantity, though the fruit drop caused by the dry weather may result in larger sized apples among the survivors. Young trees on high ground have had quite a struggle to pull through the drought, though comparatively few of these trees have been actually killed by a lack of moisture in the soil.

City's Rain Gauge Records .32 Inch

The total rainfall Tuesday night, according to the gauge in charge of City Engineer Arthur Hallinan, was .32 of an inch. This figure brings the total rainfall for the month of August to date to 1.46 inches, an amount equal to the total for the entire month of July, greater than June and equal to May.

Last night's storm reached its greatest intensity at about 10:30, when rain fell at the rate of 1.3 inches an hour for a period of two minutes. The storm at this point was the second heaviest since last March.

The storm finished about 10:50, when rain fell at the rate of .5 of an inch an hour for 15 minutes. This 15 minutes of rain was the heaviest for that length of time since March 8.

There was a slight rainfall early this morning about 4 o'clock, but not enough to make much of an impression on the storm gauge.

Sundown Stories

By MARY GRAMER BONNER

They were splashing a corner and why they splashed the north button.

"We're coming," he yelled, and told the others to wait, too, in case any one was waiting along the road.

"Christophers," said Willy Nilly, after they had safely rounded the corner, "You got only stopped my horn from blowing all the time—you stopped it from blowing at all!"

"Now we'll have to yell at cross-purposes to get out of the way when we see them, and we'll have to shout as we round corners, or when we pass another car. Our voices will have to serve as a horn."

"It just doesn't agree with me to do a good deed," signed Christophers. "I mean to help a great deal."

"Well, here we are at the lake," said Willy Nilly, "and we can have our outing. When I get home I'll repair the horn."

The lake looked so blue and lovely and the Ducks, Rip, the Dog, Willy Nilly, and the Bears, too, were soon in the water.

How the Ducks did duck their heads! How the Bears splashed.

"Stop splashing so hard," cried Top North, the Rooster, who stood on the shore and used the lake as a mirror in which to see himself.

"I can't get a good look at myself when you stir up the water so much."

"And it's important that you should have the lake just serve you as a looking-glass, you vain creature!" quacked Mrs. Quacko Duck.

"Oh, oh, oh, don't quarrel!" cried Willy Nilly. "See what has happened. Harry, hurry!"

CAMP WENDY STARTING FINAL ENCAMPMENT

The last encampment of Camp Wendy, the Ulster County Girl Scout camp has started! One hundred and ten healthy and happy girls are there! Their days are full and well planned! Play, rest, and instruction equally divided!

Swimming is probably the main sport. The girls love it and the parents are more desirous of their daughters' progress in the water than in any other line. The new swimmers begin in the crib and they are graduated as rapidly as they become proficient. After they master the rudiments of swimming, they are allowed to dive and enter in the water sports.

On Sunday afternoon, August 13, during visiting hours, the campers are going to have a special water sports program.

Hobby hour is always interesting because each girl is allowed to choose her own particular craft and work at it. Instruction is given in all the various arts and crafts.

Wednesday evening, August 16, at 7:30, the pageant "Peter Pan" will be given by the campers. Families and friends are invited and urged to come. They may bring a picnic supper to eat at camp but two campers will be expected to eat together, as usual.

On Monday afternoon, August 14, the Ulster County Council will have a council meeting at Camp Wendy. It is hoped that as many of the council as possible will be present to see camp in full swing.

Many improvements have been made this season. All the encampments have been full. The director and her staff have done an excellent job and the summer of 1933 is considered a very successful one for Camp Wendy.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Aug. 9.—George Windrum, a bright lad from Brooklyn, is visiting at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Jennie Green, of the village center. George is the son of the late Tracy Windrum, who was born and brought up in Shokan.

Mrs. Fred Herschenroeder is again at her home on the mountain road, having returned recently from New York city where she was ill for several weeks. Mrs. Herschenroeder, much to the satisfaction of her numerous friends here, is greatly improved in health at this time.

Mrs. Alfred Wallerstein and daughter, Anita, of Brooklyn, are spending the week at the family summer home near the corner.

Sweet corn is selling locally for 25 cents a dozen ears and very little home grown corn is to be had. Charles and Marvin Green are selling quite a lot of Golden Bantam from their patch, otherwise the retail trade in sweet corn is largely confined to peddlers.

New York city residents stopping at Earl Dean's Lakeview House recently were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Murtagh, Mrs. H. Grumy, Mr. and Mrs. Taugen and Miss Taugen.

Paul James, local contractor, has begun some improvements at the William Morrison farm near the Traver Hollow bridge.

Mrs. C. N. Foster of Englewood, N. J., was a business caller in Shokan Tuesday morning. The Foster summer home on the upper Boiceville road for many years was known as the Henry Satterlee place.

On August 10, 1875, Old School Baptists from many communities came here to attend a religious meeting of the sect in the Olive-Hurley Church which still stands in the village center, at the junction of the north and middle reservoir boulevards. Preachers present on the occasion of this meeting were Elders Beebe, Hewitt, Rubbell, Moore and Maben. The picturesque old church edifice has been the scene of many large gatherings in the past, these having been of frequent occurrence in the years following the erection of the building in 1857.

Mrs. John Coons, a former resident of the Coons district who is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Lincoln Smith of Ashokan, was a caller in the village last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jochem of Richfield, N. J., were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Jochem's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kirm, Sr. Mrs. Jochem is prominent in Eastern Star circles in her home town and Secaucus, N. J.

George Fisher, one of Kingston's hustling young business men, was in Shokan Tuesday morning.

Mrs. C. A. Winchell and daughter, Alva, are spending a vacation with friends at Lake Hopatacong, N. J., and Pelham, N. Y.

The evening milk train on the Central carried three extra cars, or twelve in all, on Monday. The increase in milk shipments by rail is probably due to the upstate strike, as fewer tank trucks have been noted passing through Shokan during the past two days.

Mrs. Sarah Bell and daughter, Hazel, who returned last week from a visit to the Century of Progress, report having had an interesting time at the exposition.

Miss Maudie Constable, who has been spending some time at Mt. Tremper, is again at her home in the village.

There is quite a brisk demand locally for hoppers at the present time, though few farmers having young cows appear disposed to part with them. There is a tendency to sell milk cows that are getting on in years, however, as a means of paying high-priced feed bills, the farmers figuring that they can carry the young stock along largely on fodder and still be in the money later on, when a possible receding grain market makes for more profitable milk producing industry.

Painful Icy and Poison Oak
Painful icy and poison oak are not the same, although the names are confused in some parts of the country. Since some forms of poison oak do not climb and some forms of poison oak do, it is hard to distinguish between them. The fact remains that both are to be avoided.Further Use of X-Rays
It was during the World War that X-rays were first applied to detecting hidden flaws in castings. The method proved so successful that it is specified in inspecting armor-plate, fender-pieces, shells, and any heavy metallic masses on the soundness of which industrial efficiency and life itself depend.

4 Italian Fliers Hurt When Plane Met With Accident

Injuries Were Not Serious As Huge Seaplanes Overturned at Takeoff Early Today—Other Planes Departed.

Horta, Azores, Aug. 9 (AP).—Four Italian aviators, members of General Italo Balbo's seaplane squadron, were hurt today when their plane overturned during the takeoff for Lisbon, Portugal.

The fliers, Capt. Ranieri, the pilot in command; Lieut. Squaglia, Sergeant Chemaschi, mechanic, and Sergeant Boveri, radio operator, were immediately taken to a hospital, where it was said their injuries are not serious.

Motor trouble caused the giant machine to turn over as it was leaving from Ponta Delgada, Azores, with 14 others for Portugal and home, after flying thousands of miles from Italy to Chicago and back. In an accident at Amsterdam on the outward journey, one flier was killed.

The ill-fated ship was called the I-rani. It was the 21st of the fleet of 24, and was marked with three green stars.

Otherwise, however, the departure of nine machines under General Pellegrini, from Horta, and the remaining ships from Ponta Delgada, under General Balbo, was without incident. They arrived from Shoal Harbor, Newfoundland, yesterday.

At 7:30 a. m. (2:30 a. m., E. S. T.), General Balbo's group got away, and five minutes later the fleet stationed over night at Horta left to rejoin the others at an intermediate point.

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW

All the new stocks of furniture in the store of Stock & Cordts will be held as long as possible at the present low prices for such quality merchandise, which are only possible because they were purchased in the markets at the time when there were no efforts made to advance cost.

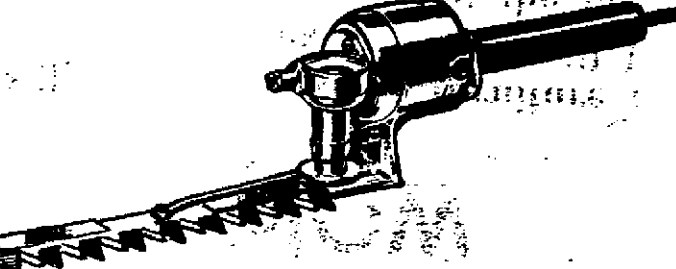

Without seeking to rush anyone into buying things they may not actually need at this time, it would seem to be in the interest of our friends and customers to decide now what special needs they may require in the near future, and have the opportunity to save the difference in cost between the present prices now quoted and what the same quality goods are likely to advance to in value for the fall markets.

Kindly read this suggestion from us carefully, and act accordingly as your judgment may dictate.
